

Clark Community Thrift Store Summer Storage Terms of Use

The following constitutes an agreement between Clark Community Thrift Store (CCTS) and the summer storage customer.

1. The customer agrees that storage of all belongings are at the customer's own risk. The customer acknowledges that CCTS is not a professional storer, mover, or common carrier and waives the right to hold CCTS, Clark University, their employees or agents to the laws and standards governing storers, movers, or common carriers. The customer waives claims for any loss, damage, or theft of items against CCTS, Clark University, their employees or agents. The customer understands that Clark University does not insure the customer's items against loss resulting from any cause, including theft or fire. If the customer wishes to insure their items, they must obtain their own insurance coverage.
2. The customer assumes sole responsibility of packaging their items. Items should be packed in boxes and should not be prone to spoilage, contamination, explosion, fire, leakage, moisture, or be deemed hazardous under applicable laws. Unacceptable materials include, but are not limited to: flammable liquids, toxic or hazardous materials, illegal substances, firearms, food, cash, or perishable items. Customers should not store highly valuable items such as jewelry, computers, passports, personal documents etc. CCTS has the right to refuse storage of any items.
3. Customers agree to drop off and pick up items during the times specified. Any items not collected within the pick-up timeframe will be considered abandoned. CCTS has the right to assume ownership of abandoned items.
4. All payments are to be made in cash in advance of storage. No refunds will be given.
5. Customers will not have access to stored items between drop-off and pick-up. Exceptions will be made at the sole discretion of CCTS.
6. The customer is responsible for ensuring that all boxes and items are properly labeled with a storage tag and customer number provided by CCTS. Customer may only pick up items labeled with their storage tag and customer number and will be required to show student ID.
